Captain Penhallow will be much missed on Maui, where he was loved by everyone. He always took the greatest interest in all that was going on, and showed remarkable skill at the game of bowling in which he was deeply interested.

Severe Quake

On Sunday night last at seven minutes past eight o'clock a severe shock of earthquake was felt in Wailular. The tremor appeared to come from the north and traveled toward the south. It lasted for about six seconds. Two shakes were felt at an interval of a second or two.

The earthquake was the most severe felt on Maui for a long time, and there were many conjectures as to where the trouble originated. Some people thought

Stanley Richardson and Miss Wodehouse are the champion mixed doubles tennis players of Maui. The pair won the finals last Friday from T. D. Collins and Mrs. Dale, by a score of 6-2, 6-4. The victors did not have much trouble in disposing of their opponents.

There was a good crowd present to see the final match of the tournament which has attracted so much attention for the past couple of months. The greatest interest was taken in the affair and, although most people figured it out that Richardson and his partner would win, there were many who expected to see a closer match than resulted.

The Paia courts are getting better every day and the members of the club are very keen on the game. Tournaments of some sort or another are constantly being played off and everybody turns up for a set or two as often as possi-

Ireland has striven for home rule without a moment's cessation ever since the Irish parliament was abolished and the legislative union of Great Britain and Ireland was proclaimed on January 1, 1801.

In the 113 years that have passed since that date the agitation has gone on under various forms, pacific and violent, led by such patriots as Daniel O'Connell, William Smith O'Donovan Rossa and Michael Davitt, to mention only a few of the more prominent. These were succeeded by the Redmonds and the Healys, who are in the forefront of the movement today.

The patriotic movement was suppressed time after time by coercion ment, only to take another form.

Grand Ad. Club Trip

R. A. Wadsworth is back from the Honolulu Ad. Club excursion to Kauai, and he is full of the story of the good time the bunch had, Wet weather rather upset the plans of the entertainment committee of Kauai, but still the visitors had a splendid time.

"Some of the side trips that had been arranged had to be abandoned," said Mr. Wadsworth, "on account of the dirt roads being too wet and muddy. The trips made, with the exception of one to the McBryde beach house, were along good macadam roads and the excursions were splendid.

"The visit to the beautiful Mc-Bryde home was inspiring, and the way we were treated at the hospitable house was splendid. Everyfrom start to finish.

KAHULUI VS. CUBS.

The Kahului boys gathered 5 runs in the first frame, after bombarding Tom Cummings' delivery all over the field, and the Young Cubs seemed unable to meet Lei's offering for the first four innings. Masaro of the Kahuluis was the only one to reach home in the second inning. In the fifth, after making some timely bingles, the Cubs managed to score 2 runs and there was nothing doing for them until the eighth inning, when they retaliated in hitting and scored 2 runs. The Kahului failed to score in their last half of the ninth inning. The Young Cubs determined to do something in their Lei pitched a dandy game for the winning team.

Tomorrow the Paias will meet the Valley Isle in the first game and the Waikapus will butt up against the Gymnasiums.
